Greetings from Ottawa!

November was a memorable month that included one of the most important times of the year for Canada -- Veterans Week. I had the honour of being with a group of Canadian Veterans of the Korean War at the UN Memorial Cemetery of Korea in Busan (where nearly 400 Canadians are buried) on November 11th. In late November, we also commemorated the historic Battles of Hill 355, on which Canadians fought and died. As Christmas and 2017 draw near, let us remember the sacrifices made by others before us so that we can enjoy the very freedoms we have today. Let us count our blessings today and always. With sincere gratitude,
~Yonah Martin
